90 DAYS JAIL FOR YARICK

DRUNKEN JUROR PICKED UP
LAST NIGHT AND SENTENCED
THIS MORNING.

Charles Yarick yesterday fired from the conspiracy jury in Judge De Bolt's court for being disgracefully drunk, was this morning in police court sentenced to imprisonment for three months, having last night at 11 o'clock been found intoxicated in the Cincinnati restaurant on King and River streets.

Yarick's aged mother yesterday interviewed Sheriff Jarrett with a view to having her son located and cared for by the police. The mother was heartbroken over her son's continued booze slavery, and declared with hopeless emphasis that she could think of nothing that could be done for him except to find him and lock him up.

Yarick is a well-known character about town, having a wooden leg and, in spite of his false appendage, frequently riding a bicycle.

Judge Andrade, police magistrate, in passing sentence this morning, declared, for Yarick's benefit, that he was a "dismal failure" and, considering all recent conditions and events, gave him a pass to the City and County Jail for the fourth of a year.

HAWAII GOT HER WISHES

(Special Correspondence.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 31.—"Hawaii has cause to feel satisfied with the new tariff Act," said Secretary McClellan today, "for on the two products in which the people of the Territory are most interested, sugar and pineapples, we get just what we want."

In fact, the Conference Committee adopted identically the language in regard to canned pineapples suggested by McClellan, i. e., "pineapples preserved in their own juice twenty-five percentum ad valorem." It also sustains the House provision regarding pineapples in bulk making the provision in the act as follows: Pineapples, in barrels and other packages, eight cents per cubic foot of the capacity of barrels or packages; in bulk, eight dollars per thousand."

ANALYZING HIGHER WAGE PROPAGANDA

Mr. Soga, editor and manager of the Nippon Jiji, was undergoing cross-examination at the hands of W. A. Kinney for the prosecution in the conspiracy trial before Judge De Bolt this morning.

The analysis of the Higher Wage propaganda in that paper made in the proceedings yielded considerable of a caustic precipitate. Mr. Soga evinced much less argumentative disposition but more frankness than his confere Mr. Negro when on the stand.

Sycophants could not appear in society and Editor Sheba had therefore been ostracized, was the substance of one of his editorial expressions admitted. Moreover, the sentiments quoted were in accordance with what he had advised and his colleagues Makino and Negoro urged.

Soga said that Sheba's offense was not only that he differed from them (the Higher Wage people) but because he was an enemy of the Japanese people.

"That is what I contended and that is what my co-defendants talked in their speeches. We have been all of one mind in such teachings."

Soga denied that a certain word applied to the "sycophants" had a vile and filthy meaning, either as used in the quotation presented or its ordinary use. Yet the addition of the prefix "o" or its omission made a difference, and he admitted that he used it, in a sentence indicated, in the form that made it a vulgar simile.

"Was it not to revive its vulgar meaning that the word was used here?" Kinney asked.

"I wrote that as a joke," was the answer.

Kinney having asked where was the joke drew from Soga a physiological explanation of the metaphor, then on further pressure admitted that its funny quality was its coarseness.

It occurred in the article in the Nippon Jiji in which it was stated that six sycophants had joined the strikers at Wapahu, the witness acknowledged.

Primary Law Works Badly

M. H. De Young, the proprietor of a Citizens Committee which I and a number of other got up to recommend a ticket for the Republican party to the San Francisco Chronicle this morning by the Korea, accompanied by his wife and two daughters. He told an interesting story of the failure of the direct primary law which is just being tried out for the first time in San Francisco. He said:

"The results of the new primary law are rotten. The personnel of the men being placed on the various tickets has been lowered very much indeed as the result and things are working out very badly. For mayor the leading candidate on the Republican side is William Crocker, not one of the Crockers of the Crocker bank, but a planing mill man. There are five other candidates against him but it looks as though he would be the choice for the nominations.

"The trouble comes with the candidates for supervisors. The law requires that each candidate for the nomination shall have a petition signed by at least three per cent of the number of voters who voted for the party ticket upon which he wishes to run at the last election. Now when you go to a business man or a merchant and tell him that he must get up a petition signed by a thousand names, in order to be a candidate, not for election but just for nomination, that then he must go through two shares of the party expenses and also his own personal expenses, it is too much. The ordinary clean business man, not of the ward politician stamp, cannot spend the time needed, or in many cases the large amount of money.

"The men backed by the corporations and professional politicians can do this and will. The result was shown very clearly in the findings of a Citizens Committee which I and a number of other got up to recommend a ticket for the Republican party to the San Francisco Chronicle this morning by the Korea, accompanied by his wife and two daughters. He told an interesting story of the failure of the direct primary law which is just being tried out for the first time in San Francisco. He said:

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMERS MAY BE WITHDRAWN

GENERAL MANAGER SCHWERIN VERY EMPHATICALLY CONFIRMS RUMORS THAT THE BIG PASSENGER BOATS MAY HAVE TO QUIT THE ROUTE—LAWS AND REGULATIONS WHICH PREVENT THEM FROM GETTING THE FREIGHT BUSINESS.

That there is a strong probability which would take away from your account that the Pacific Mail Company may take its big vessels off the run between San Francisco and the Orient, with the fact that the Korea carries but 800 tons of cargo on her present trip as an object lesson, is the sum of an interview with R. P. Schwerin, general manager of the line, who arrived here this morning. Mr. Schwerin is accompanied by his wife and family and will remain here for ten days, unless, as he says he falls too much in love with the city. When asked if there was any prospect that the Pacific Mail would be able to give Hawaii better passenger accommodations, Mr. Schwerin said:

"No, at present things look very much the other way. There seems to be a likelihood that we will be compelled to give up our Oriental service, which would take away from your account that the Pacific Mail Company may take its big vessels off the run between San Francisco and the Orient, with the fact that the Korea carries but 800 tons of cargo on her present trip as an object lesson, is the sum of an interview with R.
